

IMPORTANT MESSAGE ABOUT AGENTS AND CONSULTANTS

UC Berkeley does not partner with agents to represent the University or to administer any part of the undergraduate admission application process. The engagement of agents or private organizations for the purpose of recruiting or enrolling international students is not endorsed by UC Berkeley. Agents who may be retained by students to help with the application process are not recognized as representatives of the University and do not have a contractual agreement or partnership to represent UC Berkeley.

UC Berkeley expects all applicants to complete their own application materials. The use of agent services is not aligned with the University of California's Statement on Integrity, expectations explained as a part of applying for admission to the University.

UC Berkeley expects an application to be the work of the applicant and that all information on the application is complete, accurate, and truthful.

There is no formula for gaining admission to UC Berkeley. Students with vastly different credentials come from thousands of schools across the country and around the world. What unifies our students, and those of other UC campuses, are the talents they bring to UC Berkeley and their passion to explore all that UC Berkeley has to offer.
